

Why the Deliberate Irradiation of Humanity and Planet Earth?

Maybe it's beyond most peoples' current grasp of reality, but humanity is being steered. Ever so deftly, ever so slowly. Many will say it's simply the bankers or corporate greed hounds, but there is much more than meets the oft unfocused, fluoridated eye.

Dot connecting can be fun, as well as pretty alarming. Especially when it points to off world or to other worldly aspects of our existence. It's at that point that many will start to shut down. Ironic, when most of the world's religions teach that very principle.

If those factors are not in someone's equations I don't know what to say. Maybe they haven't researched enough. Maybe their awakening is purely on the geopolitical level. I don't know. You have to admit, religion has done a bang up job of distancing the reality of spiritual involvement to a remote sector of the human psyche. Clever bastards.

That our planet is being influenced, steered and even controlled by outside influences becomes very apparent if you're truly looking. Religions call it evil influences. Not far off if you ask me since in this context much of this manipulation appears to be clearly anti-human, but programmed religions very effectively keep their followers and adherents disempowered and boxed in nonetheless. Ours is to rise to a much fuller understanding...and hence empowerment, outside of hierarchical constraint systems.

Depopulation, Environmental Destruction and You

There are many questions as well as theories regarding the clearly engineered global destruction we are witnessing. Why would the “elites” do this to themselves and their own families? This argument is embraced by questions about chemtrails, GMOs, fluoride, vaccinations and the rest. It’s easily answered on many conjectured levels. One, they don’t partake of them to a large extent, or have special antidotes to these chemical invasions. That and/or they’re convinced the overarching program is so profoundly important any sacrifice is justified.

Does it matter?

What we’re witnessing is so massively pre-contemplated and executed it would be hard for an impartial judge to say we’re not being exterminated. Systematically. That’s where the weirdness comes in and where group incredulity takes root. It’s just too damn weird. So they shelve the thought and keep robotically putting along.

Let’s Take It Further

Accounts regarding why we are being bombarded with toxins, our being deliberately dumbed down, and the reality that earth’s environment is being drastically altered have produced many theories. All of them valid until thoroughly dismissed.

It’s ours to wonder and discover, not be shut down.

After many years of research I have come to some apparently startling realizations. Shared by many, shunned by more.

We are not alone. We never have been. Our Universe is alive and we are but a small speck of life in the great Cosmos. Hence, that aspect of our existence must be part of our overall viewpoint. Wouldn’t you agree?

The Radiation Agenda

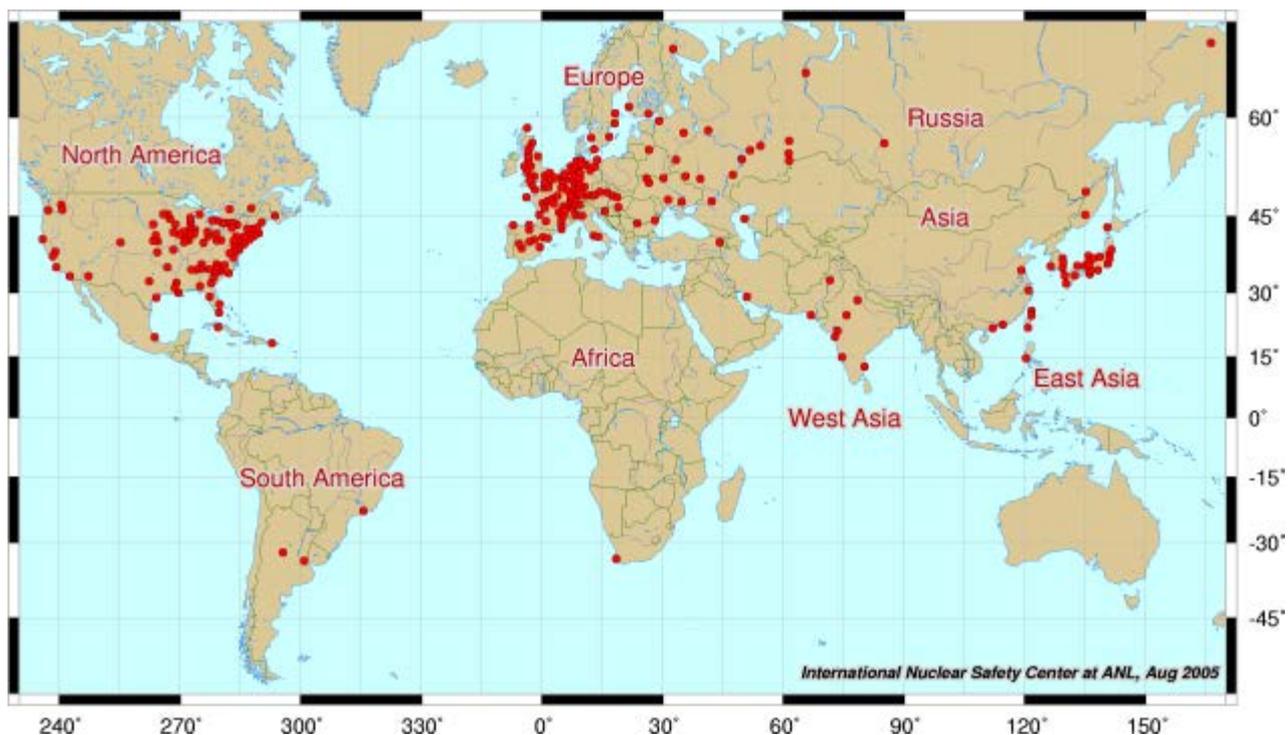

This program began a long, long time ago. Humanity has been bombarded with radiation fallout since its “discovery”. Just look here at the degree of this insanity:

Now tell me no one thought this through and that the after effects wouldn't alter humanity's course and development in a negative way. The point here is that at some level they know, and something's driving them.

This begins to put Fukushima and the massive proliferation of dangerous nuclear energy reactors and x-ray intensive food, health and security technology into a much more profound perspective. They know, but either they don't care in their craze to profit from this technology financially and militarily, or perhaps we're looking at something as disturbing as terraforming; changing the very environment of our home as well as its inhabitants to fit some other, unknown and über Machiavellian agenda.

And that doesn't mean all those involved in this insanity know what they are part of. That's a fundamental truth of almost every agenda of this weird matrix now enveloping our planet. The go-fers right up the chain are as dumb as bricks, blinded by their lust for wealth, power and control. An easy drug to pass out for the Controllers steering these jerkwads.

Nuclear Reactors around the World

The crisis at in reactors Japan's Fukishima nuclear power station has focused attention on the world's nuclear power industry. But how big is it exactly?

This database, from the World Nuclear Association gives us some idea. We've scraped a list of every operational nuclear reactor around the world – and its location, power rating and operating company.

The list gives a unique picture of the state of the world in nuclear power. Monitored by the International Atomic Energy Agency, the industry in Japan has been criticized for being less than forthcoming over what's happening inside Fukushima.

And Japan is certainly a major nuclear power – with a high proportion of boiling water reactors, such as the kind that are overheating at Fukushima today.

Here's how the data looks on a map:

But how old are they? Over 60 of the world's operating reactors were opened before 1975, the vast majority in the US.

Nuclear Weapon Madness – Some 23,300 nuclear weapons are stored at 111 locations around the world

The world's approximately 23,300 nuclear weapons are stored at an estimated 111 locations in 14 countries, according to an overview produced by FAS and NRDC.

Nearly half of the weapons are operationally deployed with delivery systems capable of launching on short notice.

The overview is published in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists and includes the July 2009 START memorandum of understanding data. A previous version was included in the annual report from the International Panel of Fissile Materials published last month. MORE>>

Insane enough yet? The planet has been land mined every which way since Sunday. This doesn't touch on genetic engineering, EMF utilization, vaccines and pharmaceuticals or the massive overt geoengineering program, one of the most obvious cases of terraforming, and for that reason the most denied.

Why?

Do you really think this is to benefit humanity? It's so off the charts Orwellian wrong the "normal" fully chemicalized, nano-particulated, entrained and zapped human mind just shuts down. As it was programmed to do.

What Are They Up To?

Good question. We need to think big. And perhaps a little bit scary, especially for the inter-dimensional awareness neophyte. This is where the awareness rubber meets the reality road. Until we awaken to these Truths we will never get the full picture.

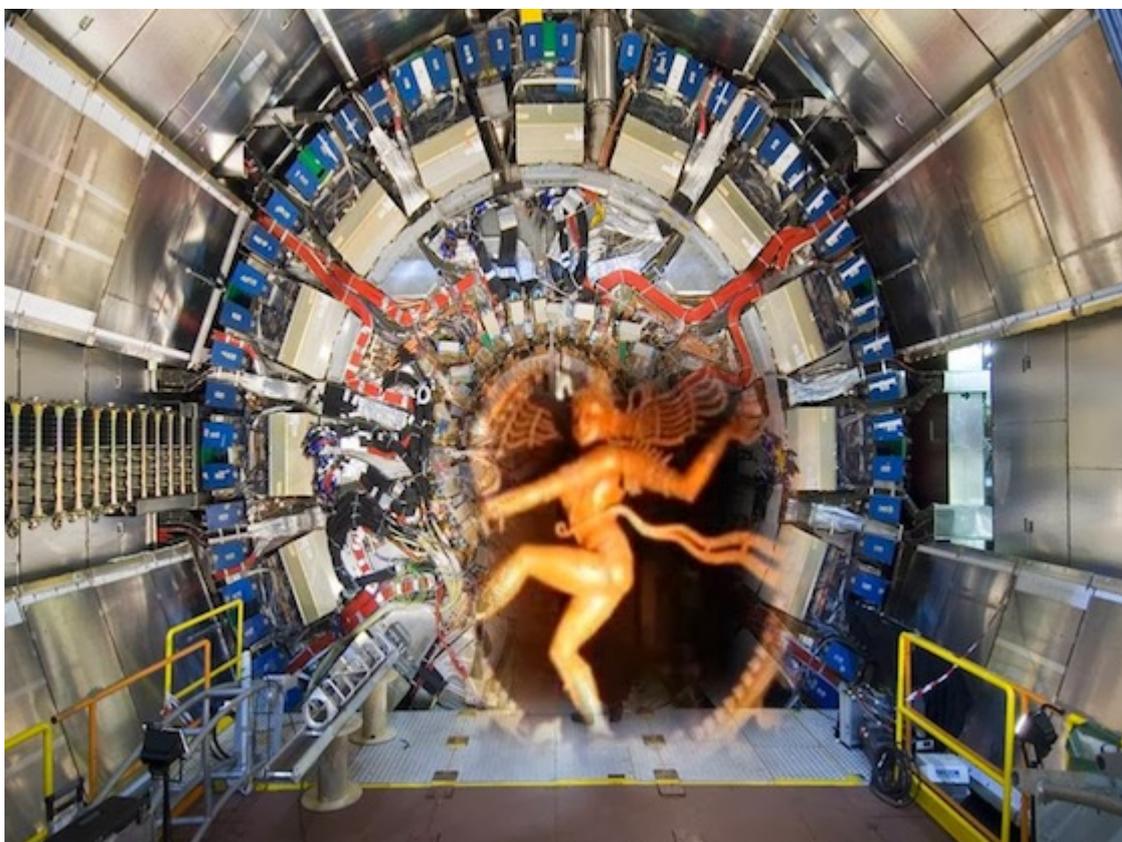

Try this one on for size, from the gifted and deeply insightful Neil Hague:

Through Ancient Eyes

In Hindu Mythology the Angels and demons are referred to as the Rakshasas (below) and in the holy books called the Vedas It is mentioned that the material world is governed by demons. Exactly what the Cathars said in 12th Century France. These inter-dimensional 'beings' are said to be able to move backwards and forwards (or in and out) of our world through portals in the space-time fabric. According to the Italian physicist and author Giuliana Conforto, these holes or portals are crevices that house pernicious angels or gluons, which are nuclear by nature.

The nuclear force, one of the four components of the universe, is said to give pernicious angels their form. The splitting of the atom and the need for plutonium as a vehicle for war and energy is of great importance to a consciousness that feeds off our world from what Conforto calls the ‘inter-space planes’. The portals that these creatures use to traverse time and enter our reality have been opened up in some cases through governmental nuclear abuse (Fukushima anyone?) and in fact, some writers have indicated that nuclear weaponry may have been used in more ancient epochs?

How’s that for a shot of conscious cappuccino? This nuclear agenda is all throughout our real history. Think CERN and you’ll get a picture of desperate whacked out scientists trying to reach this realm in other ways – and even they say they don’t know what will “come out of” the dimensional hole they’re boring! (See more about CERN HERE.)

Conclusion

As we know, any closed system has its own justification system. “It’s just power freaks and that’s all it is.” “Why do we have to talk about alien influences or weird ball greys, reptilians, archons, gluons or other such strange unknown races invading and occupying our space? We have problems to deal with here!”

Ha! Just wait until the veil is split wide open!

But until then, it’s ours to investigate and learn, because knowledge breeds empowerment. Truth breeds love and inherent answers to our human condition. Light trumps darkness by a factor of infinity.

It’s that simple. Turn it on.

We can argue ourselves blue in the face about any of these subjects. Most issues are designed to keep us in the geopolitical narrative where we harangue each other and spit nails against the clearly manipulative matrix we’re seemingly imprisoned by. That clearly has its place but we need to draw some serious conclusions as to where we are going and why.

Find out for yourself, but never discount anything until you’ve given it open-minded and open-hearted consideration.

What we can do about such an infestation remains to be seen. I know for me it’s all about conscious awareness wherein I find unlimited peace and confidence. The Universe has designed, or allowed, all of these influences, and empowered us to overcome and transcend all of them.

Ours is to respond – with courage and conviction. That comes with a personal grasping of our true condition, both here and in the Infinite potential of the eternal human Spirit. A gift we must not squander.

The adventure continues. Be sure to enjoy it!

Much love always,

Zen
